

CLUBS' LENTEN DAYS

Whitsy may be had from members of the committee or at the school, 471 West Fifty-seventh street. There will be a prize for each table and the event promises to be one of the most successful given for the institution.

The school has been meeting with great success in raising life members at $100 each and perpetual patrons at $400. These membership fees are added to the permanent fund, which since the semi-annual meeting in December, has been increased more than $2,000. On account of the weather and the condition of the street, the attendance of late at the school has been small. The health of the children, however, has been remarkably good.

The Missouri Woman's Club, Mrs. J. L. Swacker president, gave the third of its series of dances on Friday evening at the Hotel McAlpin. It was for the scholarship fund and was held in the Winter Garden.

A lecture will be given before the New York Auxiliary of the League of American Pen Women by Dr. Edward Devine on the evening of March 1 at the McDowell Gallery, 108 West Fifty-fifth street. Dr. Devine will take for his subject "Americanization, True and False."

The club had a dinner on Friday at the Cafe Martin, 150 West Forty-fourth street, which was largely attended and a recent luncheon was equally successful, and brought together guests from California, the middle West, New England and Washington, and others from overseas, England, France, Italy and Norway. The president, Mrs. Ruth Rice, introduced the speakers. Col. S. C. McClure, who was among the guests, told about his visit to different nations and his meeting with many kings and queens. Grace Tyson spoke on "Salesmanship" and Miss Grace Griswold on "Playwriting." Maude Clarke Hough, representative at large, gave an account of the league's good work during the war and of the clubhouse in Washington, which is the centre there of American as well as literary activities. Margaret Campbell Goodman of Detroit, Mich., who is engaged in the deep salvage business, told how she formed a corporation and secured capital to salvage valuable cargoes from wrecks.

Mrs. Eleanor Kilmer Soave, niece of J. P. Morgan, Mrs. Armen Hensley of London, Miss Priscilla Webster, Miss Jane Manner, Mrs. Thomas Gladding, Mrs. Lionel Sutra, Willie Wallace Rice, Miss Ruth Waterbury, Miss Marguerite Lindley and Miss Mathilde Well also took part in the afternoon's exercises.

The Good Will Charity Circle, of which Mrs. Alma Von Blum is president, had a social afternoon recently at the home of Mrs. R. Siebert, 68 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn. A short address of welcome to the many guests was made by the president, who spoke on business questions and the work of the circle. New members were introduced. The meeting was followed by tea and cards.

The tenth anniversary of the Junior Aid League of the Lenox Hill Hospital was celebrated a week ago yesterday in the Liederkreis ballroom, 111 East Fifty-eighth street. In the revelry which opened the programme there were banquets, Miss Eleanor Heck, Alvin Mayer, Mildred Sherman and Wilhelm Theobald; flower girls, Miss Rita Janson, Lillian Wilson, Flora Zahn and Hilda Zahn; gaiters, Misses Leonie Zilber, Charlotte Lohr, Alma Mann and Helene Mann, and Father Time, Mr. Herbert Forster.

The second number was a dream song, in which Miss Emma Kohn, Miss Marie King and Mr. King took part. "Roses from Synagogue" included Misses Grace Schaffer, Eva Goritz, Santa Goritz, Eleanor Heck, Rita Janson, Alvin Mayer, Lucille Quigley, Mildred Sherman, Lillian Wilson, Theobald, Gertrude Trebing and Lillian Wilson.

There was a barn dance done by Messrs. J. Blumenthal, H. B. Both, F. Gerber, A. R. Miller, M. Rudich, R. Rudich and G. W. Zahn. In the "Princess of Ages" Miss Marie King took the part of the princess and Mr.

Eric von der Gist was the hero. In attendance on the princess were Misses Leonie Zilber, Eva Goritz, Gertrude Klemm, Charlotte Lohr, Alma Mann, Helene Mann, Flora Zahn and Hilda Zahn. The dancers were Misses Santa Goritz, Eleanor Heck, Rita Janson, Lucille Quigley, Mildred Sherman, Lillian Wilson, Theobald, Gertrude Trebing and Lillian Wilson.

"The Land of Departed Spirits" had Mr. Paul Cordes as the mourner who came through the gate of dreams. Miss Flora Zahn took the part of white key and Miss Eva Goritz of gin. There were two vermouths, the Misses Alma and Helene Mann. Two cocktails also took part, Misses Alvin Mayer and Santa Goritz. Red and white wines were impersonated by Misses Lucille Quigley and Rita Janson. Miss Dorothy Hupfaut was champagne. Cordials were Misses Hilda Zahn and Wilhelm Theobald. Old songs were given by Messrs. G. W. Zahn, F. Aufmolk, C. Rohs and C. Friedman.

In honor of the day there was a Valentine number, with Miss Hildegarde Hupfaut as the belle and Miss Vera Forster as the maid. The hearts were Misses Santa Goritz, Eleanor Heck, Mildred Sherman, Wilhelm Theobald, Gertrude Trebing and Lillian Wilson. Miss Grace Schaffer was "The Broken Heart." The "New Washington Girl" was the last number of the programme. In it were girls who had appeared in other numbers.

The Women's Forum, Mrs. Helen Varick Boswell president, had one of its meetings on Friday morning in the music room of the Hotel Biltmore. The speaker of the day was Dr. William F. Bloom, whose subject was "Is There a New Era?" His address was followed by a discussion from the floor. At the forum's March meeting the members will be entertained by Mrs. Marcus M. Marks, one of the directors, who has just been elected a director of the City Federation of Women's Clubs. The executive board was recently entertained at tea by Mrs. Charles S. Whitman and Mrs. John H. Griesel.

$8 Black-Nap Satin, $4.48

All Silk and Forty Inches Wide: A Sale Event

A BEAUTIFUL QUALITY of Costume Satin, heavy and rich of texture with closely woven, brilliantly lustrous face in a perfect shade of black.

A Satin that requires no lining, for the nap-back is soft and velvety and much like duvetyne in appearance. A Satin that requires no trimming, for what could be smarter than facings of the dull back against the brilliant satin surface?

A Satin that will make wonderfully effective Dolmans and Wraps, for it drapes beautifully. A Satin that will make extremely handsome Tailored Suits, Skirts, Separate Coats, because of its fine texture and heavy weight. No other Silk possesses so many possibilities for Spring's fashion requirements. Its sale tomorrow at $4.48 a yard is an event.

New Phases of the Mode in Tailor Suits

For Spring $79.50

THE TRIO of extremely smart models pictured, developed in navy blue Tricotines, cleverly indicate the trend of Tailor fashion.

Chosen for their extremely smart style features, they are all remarkable values at this very special price—values that it would be difficult to duplicate elsewhere.

All are expertly tailored, with fancy silk lined Coats and the finest of hand finished details, piped button holes, embroidered cuffs, hand sewn folds and strappings.

The model with long Tuxedo revers has a Moonglow satin vest in contrasting color, and is trimmed with wide Hercules braid.

The model at center has panel back, and is very straight in its lines; note the convertible tab collar and the buckle fastened belt.

The third model has the new sash girdled coat, slashed at sides, and a jaunty girdle belt; straps lend to its long lines, and there are large novelty pockets. This model may be had in check velour, as well as tricotine.

All have fashionably cut skirts with pockets.

A Sale of Untrimmed Hats

Spring's Newest Shapes

Specially Priced, $2.50

BRILLIANT LISERE and five end Milan straw Hats, in smart Continentals and Turbans, Mushroom and Rolling Side effects.

The woman who prides herself on her ability to trim her own Hats, and who is deft fingered, will be delighted with the possibilities this Sale affords. The shapes are distinctive enough to require but little adornment, perhaps but a feather fancy or a few bright flowers.

In black and colors—a very choice collection, at an extremely attractive price.

Weddings and Engagements of Interest in Society

MRS. GERTRUDE THERESA PLANTEN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Rolf Platten, will be married on next Wednesday night to Mr. Laird Curtis Dinmore. The ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock at the Platten residence, 207 Carlton avenue, Brooklyn. The bride, who is a granddaughter of the late John R. Platten, who was Consul-General for the Netherlands in New York for forty years, will have her sister, Mrs. Harold J. Babbidge for her matron of honor and Miss Gertrude Etanachid for her maid of honor. She will have four other attendants, Mrs. Herbert Wesley Reid, Miss Florence Chase and Miss Marion Bernard of Brooklyn and Miss Edna Schleier of Forest Hills.

The best man will be Dr. Ward Renfrew. The ushers will be Messrs. Lawrence K. Harper, Remsen Holbert and Harold J. Babbidge of Philadelphia and Elsworth Harris of Montclair. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Charles Carroll Albertson. Mr. Dinmore, who was graduated in 1914 from Princeton, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Dinmore. He was in the Naval Reserve during the war. His future bride also did active work during the war. She was graduated from Packer Institute in 1917.

Mrs. and Mr. George Ackerman of Passaic, N. J. formally announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Georgina Greenlee Ackerman, to Mr. Charles S. Day of Brooklyn. The engagement is the second in the two families announced this winter. In December the engagement of Miss Ackerman's sister, Charlotte Ackerman, to Mr. Charles S. Day's brother, Dr. Selby James Day, was announced.

The engagement is announced of Miss Gertrude Jacobs of 119 St. Nicholas avenue to Mr. Alexander Hackel. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jacobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Rubin of 27 Central Park West announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hope Rubin, to Mr. Theodore I. Schneider.

The engagement of Miss Claire Lowenstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lowenstein of the Williamsburg, West Seventy-seventh street, to Mr. Oscar Heiman Helmsman of Chicago, is announced.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Spiegelman of San Francisco, Cal., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss S. Sara Spiegelman to Mr. Nathan Abraham of San Francisco and New York, son of Mrs. F. Abraham of this city.

Mrs. H. M. Carney of 24 The Fenway, Boston, announces the engagement of her grandchild, Miss Louise Hill, to Julius Louis Wettlaufer of New York. Miss Hill is the younger daughter of the late Warren May Hill and granddaughter of the late William H. Hill, Boston banker, and of the late Charles F. Hill, of the late Otto Wettlaufer of this city and has been a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the School of Finance, New York University.

On their return from their honeymoon in Los Angeles and Southern California, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth N. Chambers will live at 218 West Ninety-eighth street. Their wedding, one of the most brilliant of the season, took place in the Crystal Room of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel last month. Following the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. W. W. Ballinger of St. George's Church, there was a reception and dance in the ballroom. The bride's gown was a novel one inasmuch as silver lace was used for the trimming instead of the usual point. The dress was of white satin made with a court train and orange blossoms fastened her tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. The bridesmaids wore gowns of blue satin and tulle trimmed with flowers. The ten bridesmaids wore frocks of orchid satin and tulle with floral garniture and carried bouquets of sweet peas. These young ladies were the Misses Gladys Gould, Cameron Edson, Martha Tucker and Julia Hancock of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel and Mildred Ommela of East Orange, Lela Taylor and Carolyn Northrop of Wilmington, N. C.; Elizabeth Palmer of Richmond, Va., and Ruby Dan Murphy of Malibu, L. I. There also were two little flower girls, Marion Taylor and Grace Cowles, who were dressed in white tulle and carried baskets of sweet peas. Mr. Clarence Nesbit was the best man. The ushers were Messrs. Edwin Borden of Goldboro, N. C.; Lawrence Battle, William Coward, Walter Hales, Charles Sackie and Hubert Larson. Before the ceremony Miss Barbara Morrell sang.

Miss Claire Martha Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Stewart, was married to Mr. Charles P. Hancock of this city on St. Valentine's day at her parents' home, 61 Bathbridge street, Brooklyn. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Lucy G. Williams. She was given away by her brother, Mr. Alexander J. Stewart. Mr. Eugene Hancock was best man for his brother. The ushers were Messrs. Francis Och and Charles and Thomas Lawrence. A reception was held. After their honeymoon Mr. Hancock and his bride will live in Woodhaven, L. I.
